

Hello,

This class amazes me! They are so grown up. They are a joy to have in class! We were just discussing that it feels as if they have all grown up a little bit over break.

Colors continue to be our theme. We continue to promote one color per week. This week we will be looking at green. Throughout the day, children will be finding shapes around the room that are the color of the week. They will tell us the color and shape that they find. They love this scavenger hunt!

Tuesday there is no school. On Thursday we will make a winter mitten based on our color, play color games and sing songs about colors. Please return your library books on Thursday.

Our helper and snack provider will be:

Tuesday – NO SCHOOL
Thursday –Tyson

This past week you should have found Scholastic Book order forms in your child's bag. We are being told their shipping problems have been fixed. So, we are offering this program again. Book orders are due by January 21st. My hope is that all books should be received by mid-February. To place an order, go to:
